Not illustrated. 1867 Excerpt: .of words used in delivering the consecrated elements has undergone many changes: as it now stands it dates from the time of Queen Elizabeth; it is so framed that it declares both the Real Presence and the commemorative character of the Sacrament. These words are to be said to any one, or every one singly, and he is to receive in both kinds: the Romish custom, of communicating under one kind only, having been unknown to the Church for a thousand years after Christ. The Rubric next following provides for a second consecration if required, which seems to imply that at this time (a.d. 1661) the practice of signifying beforehand the names of intending communicants had fallen into some neglect. And then, when all have communicated, the minister shall cover what remaineth of the consecrated elements with a fair linen cloth. This cloth is known by...
